8:00 P. M. Junior Play.

Middlebury will open her long anticipated and much talked of Junior Week this evening when the Parker-Merrill Prize Speaking contest will be held in the Mead Chapel. Professor Davison has spent much painstaking effort upon the preparation of the contestants and the event will no doubt be a thoroughly enjoyable one.

Tomorrow afternoon the festivities will be continued in the form of the Freshman P-rade. Following this will be the initial appearance of Midd's 1919 baseball team, which will meet the Massachusetts University nine. Although the team has been unable to play a preliminary game, owing to the inclement weather, the form of the men is excellent and all forecasts of the quality of playing are favorable to victory for the Blue and White.

At eight o'clock Thursday evening the Glee Club together with the Banjo-Mandolin Club will give a concert at the Town Hall. This feature of the Junior Week Program will no doubt be an unprecedented success, for although Midd has not yet witnessed a performance from these musical clubs, the reports from the trip taken by them last term prophesy a most enjoyable evening.

On Friday morning at nine o'clock the trial heats for the Interscholastic Track Meet will be held at Porter Field.

Tufts College will meet Middlebury in a track meet at 2:30 p. m. Midd's track team has had excellent preparation and that together with the splendid material which it boasts should give the college a fair chance at defeating the Tufts men.

The Junior Prom, which will be one of the most attractive events of the week, will begin at 8:00 p. m. Special attention has been given to the pleasure of guests of the college in the setting aside of two dances for their benefit. Every effort has been made to make the dance one to be remembered by all.

The last day of the festivities, Saturday, holds in store a program quite as attractive as any preceding it. The Interscholastic Track Meet will be held at 9:00 a. m. Middlebury heartily welcomes the representatives of the school's entered in these events. At 1:30 p. m.

VARSITY BASEBALL SEASON TO OPEN

A second attempt to open the 1919 baseball season will be made Thursda afternoon at 3 o'clock when Middlebury is scheduled to meet Massachusetts University. The Saturday following one of the big games of the season will be staged between the two rivals for Vermont supremacy, U. V. M. and Middlebury. Last week's contest with Trinity College was cancelled because of the excessive rain.

No regular practice was possible during the entire week, since last Wednesday, except yesterday when necessity forced Coach Keefe to lead his charges forth from their cold weather quarters in the gymnasium. Probably no change will be made in the line-up which was intended for last Saturday's game.

One of the most formidable nines of the season will be encountered this Saturday. U. V. M. with a nucleus of nine veterans has developed what is reported to be a very fast aggregation. On her southern trip last week she held Boston University 5-1 in a 5 inning game and evened up Monday by defeating Harvard 1-0. The U. V. M. team will be accompanied by a large number of rooters who are coming to Middlebury on the noon train.

JUNIOR WEEK RALLY

"More pep and then more" was the keynote of an enthusiastic 45-minute rally held last evening in McCullough Gymnasium. In spite of conflicting dates caused by the several pre-Junior Week preparations over 125 men turned out to make the meeting a success. Brief addresses were made by Pres. Thomas, Dr. Harrington and Coach Keefe on the subject of Junior Week. Cheers were led by Furber '20 and Thomas '20 and accompaniment to the singing of college songs was rendered by a stringed orchestra with piano under the leadership of Brackett '20

Rev. Dr. C. C. Merrill of Burlington, State Secretary of the Congregational Church of Vermont, spoke to an appreciative group of men in Hepburn social hall last Friday evening. He presented facts which were of particular interest to the students who intend to continue their studies in a Theological Seminary.

WELCOME TO MIDD'S JUNIOR WEEK

Why We Feel Our College Worth While

Natural, Social and Material Advantages

The Campus welcomes to Middlebury our Junior Week visitors. We want first of all to give you a good time; that the memories of your visit may all be pleasant ones; that you may go away liking us and resolved some day to come back and be one of us. We welcome you the more heartily because we believe in Middlebury and all for which she stands. We think she is a college worth living for and loving. And so The Campus judges it fitting to put down just the reasons why we are glad to have you with us and why we want you to be attracted by Middlebury as we have been.

The first reason is because the location is itself inspiring. You have stood upon our campus and visited our athletic field. You have seen the natural beauties which surround us. You cannot help having felt some measure of inspiration. That we feel to be one of Middlebury's most ennobling attractions.

The second reason is because of the spirit of comradeship and helpfulness which is the keynote of the life here. To know all your fellow students is the privilege given by the small college. To know them as Middlebury students know each other is the peculiar Middlebury privilege.

The third reason is also on the score of friendship, but this time with the faculty. On both sides the friendships made possible by the Middlebury spirit of comradeship are cherished throughout the years.

The fourth is the athletic idea fostered and maintained by Middlebury. We believe in clean and strenuous athletics. We want to make and keep our sports always worth while.

The fifth is because we are proud of our plant. We can offer our students living facilities excelled by no other college in New England for comfort and convenience and at prices cheaper than most can offer.

The sixth is because to be educated at Middlebury means true education. The courses make you think. You come away from them satisfied that they are worth while. From them you gain power.

The seventh is that the daily challenge here at Middlebury is to do your best. It needs no comment.

Nor does the eighth. Our Honor Roll voices the truth of the great demand made of all Middlebury students: "the last full measure of devotion" to American ideals.

Because we believe that Middlebur stands for these eight things, we welcome you to the festivities of Junior Week, proud of our college and the opportunity we have to show it to you at its best.

All of the World Fellowship classes met in Pearsons social hall Tuesday, under the leadership of "Dave" Reid '19, who spoke very interestingly and forcefully on present day problems. He made his talk more vivid by telling several stories of his experiences as Y. M. C. A. director in different camps. A general discussion closed the meeting.

TRACK MEET TO OPEN FRIDAY

Schools Entered in Meet

Rutland High School, Vt.
Keene High School, N. H.
St. Johnsbury Academy, Vt.
Hotchkiss High School, Mass.
Woodstock High School, Vt.
Middlebury High School, Vt.
Montpelier High School, Vt.

Middlebury's First Interscholastic Track Meet will be formally opened Friday morning at 9 o'clock when the preliminary races for the crowded events will be run off. Nearly 50 entries representing three states will compete in the races and with weather conditions favorable it is expected that one or more of the state records will be broken before noon of the next day, when the meet will terminate.

Without a doubt the interscholastic meet together with the other Junior Week festivities will be the means of bringing the largest number of sub-Freshmen to the college in its history. Including the ordinary number of visitors and those who are planning to accompany their teams the number will probably reach the hundred mark. Brattleboro High, Bellows Free Academy and Lyndon Institute, three schools which were originally planning to send teams notified Mgr. Holbrook late last week that they would be unable to come.

Arriving tomorrow in Middlebury on the noon and afternoon trains the visitors will be taken to the gymnasium where they will register and be assigned to the rooms in Hepburn Hall to be occupied by them during their three-day stay. The men will eat in Hepburn Commons as guests of the College and free admission will be given them to the varsity contests on Thursday, Friday and Saturday afternoons. Two dances at the Prom on Friday evening have also been set aside for their pleasure.

The finishing touches were put on the quarter-mile oval this afternoon. During the past three weeks an immense amount of work has been completed by the Assistant Track Managers, assisted by freshmen, in getting the track in shape for the meet. The entire surface has been cleared of weeds and a new coating of cinders applied in various places. New jumping standards and discus have recently been procured in addition to a 12-pound shot and hammer which are regulation in all interscholastic meets.

A total of 54 medals, three for each of the eighteen events, will be awarded in the gymnasium immediately after the meet. A handsomely engraved shield for the winning team, and silver loving cups for the school capturing the relay race and for the individual high-point winner will be the other awards. The trophies are now being exhibited in the display windows of the Ives & Shambo clothing concern.

The personnel of the official staff includes a number of faculty members and out-of-town men besides members of the three upper classes in co Following is a list of the more important officials: Referee, Prof. Swett; Starter, Coach Brown; Timers, Sen. H. R. Kingsley, Prof. Voter, C. A. Chapman; Clerk of Course, Jones '19; Judges at Finish, Prof. Harrington, Coach Keefe, Breen '20; Scorer, Miske '20; Announcer, Mead '18.

Plans for the Future

The Middlebury of today is not the little college that President Thomas took in hand a few short years ago. The ideals and aims of the college are essentially those of the founders, with the broadening of experience and changing circumstances. Materially, however, the college has expanded to an unusual degree. It is not necessary to enumerate the progress during the last ten years—attendance, income, endowment and buildings, all have increased in a most gratifying way. It it not typical of Middlebury to rest on the laurels gained, and even greater things are planned for the future. A new dormitory for the men and one for the women are essential if the number of students continues to increase. Another desirable addition a modern, well-equipped administration building, in which all the offices of College officials will be centrally and conveniently located. We are still reciting in the same building that our grandfathers might have used for this very purpose; the chemistry building, with the growing importance of this branch of study, should be devoted wholly to chemistry—hence a recitation hall, large enough for the bulk of the classes which do not require laboratory equipment is not only desirable but practical. This is suggestive of the needs of our Bigger, Better, Busier Middlebury, but more than this, we feel that it may also be a forecast of the college a few years hence.

If Not, Why Not?

Middlebury is on the road of Growth and Prosperity. With the ending of the war she has gradually resumed her former policies, renewing those customs which are dear to the students and faculty. Among the most inportant ones to be taken up once more is the celebration of Junior Week. We greet with pleasure the time set aside for these festivities, so let us all enter upon the holiday with resolutions to make it the best of its kind. Let us make it one which will be remembered with pleasure not only by us but by our guests. Let us show them what Middlebury really is, in order that they may know what it means to be students here.

"A SCRAP OF PAPER"

The comedy which is to be presented Saturday evening by the Junior Play cast bids fair to be most successful, although it is of a somewhat lighter character than those which have been given in previous years. It is an adaptation of Sardon's "Pattes de Mouche," and was first presented in English in St. James Theatre, London, in 1861. It has been played repeatedly in America and always with great success.

The action takes place in a French town, to which Prosper Couramont has returned after an absence of three years. Forced to choose between immediate marriage or disinheritance and finding his former sweetheart, Louise de la Glaciere, married he decides to seek the hand of Matilde de Merival, who is Louise's sister. In the course of events he has an opportunity to demand an explanation from Louise as to her sudden marriage. The explanations resulting reveal the fact that a note written by Baroness de la Glaciere for the purpose of explaining her situation to Couramont still reposes in a statuette formerly used by the two as a post box. The plot from here on centers about Prosper Couramont's possession and concealment of 'the scrap of paper" and the endeavors of Louise and Mademoiselle Susanne, a cousin of the Baroness's to recover and destroy it.

It has been necessary, owing to Kasper's inability to resume his part as Prosper Couramont, to change the cast slightly. Huggard will play Couramont, and Cooley will take the part of Baron de la Glaciere, which Huggard leaves.

FROM BUFFALO TIMES

'91. An entertaining sketch of Thomas H. Noonan, who is associate Judge of the City Court in Buffalo, N. Y., recently appeared in the Evening Times of that city. Judge Noonan was a classmate of Dr. V. C. Harrington, Professor and Mrs. E. C. Bryant, and Mrs. John M. Thomas. We reprint the following extract from the Buffalo paper.

'About the time that Tom was physically able to go to school he passed much of his freedom by fishing for sticklebacks in Otter Creek. Many of his young playmates figured conspicuously in Oliver Optics books, particularly in "Haste and Waste," the young hero of Lake Champlain. After the District School had toyed with Tommy for a while, he was sent to the New Haven, Vt., Academy, and then to Middlebury College, from which he graduated in 1891. He had learned slowly but surely and was the better for it. Three years after that Tom was induced to come to Buffalo The consideration was perfectly private. He had studied law with Chief Judge of the Court of Claims Theodore H. Swift, and he told Henry W. Hill that Tom ought to be made to come to Buffalo. So Henry told Tom to come along. This was in 1894, and in 1900 a partnership was formed with George K. and Charles J. Staples. As a trial lawyer Tom Noonan began doing so very well that the Stapleses began trembling in their boots. One of the main factors in the celebrated Seduction of the Vermontonian was another one, by name of Sam Botsford, who settled here. The two of them Formed a Buffalo Alumni of Middlebury, and the Lonesomeness of this Organization would have been Pathetic indeed, if it had not been for the fact that they Didn't Seem to Notice it. Tom always did have a Gentle Confidence in Himself, besides being a Republican, and Sam was always Radiant when an opportunity came to Back him Up. Those who have Noticed the Touching Tenderness between the Two will never forget it if they live until their Dying Day."

Dorothy Nash '19 has accepted a position as teacher in Essex Center.

What Others Think

OPEN TO ALL

This department aims to be an absolutely impersonal current schedule of campus opinion upon subjects of intense interest. Communications intended for publication must be signed by the author but the name will be withheld upon request.

Dear Editor:

A. Critique very justly seemed perturbed because there had been no cheering practice. To justify the cheer leaders may I call to the mind of A. Critique the fact that there are several affairs going on at Midd which made a rally practically impossible. As to cheer practice after chapel, a notice has been put in practically every day to have said practice after chapel, but each time something has occurred, such as classes or sections of men being asked to stay after chapel or rain which made it inexpedient to try the cheers. Practice will be held, however, and we hope a hearty response will result.

A. Cheer Leader.

Dear Editor:

There is one question which occurs to me, and which I would like, through the medium of our college paper, to bring to the attention particularly of the seniors. It is customary for the seniors to appear at Sunday chapel in their caps and gowns, usually the Sunday of Junior Week. Thereafter the caps and gowns are supposed to be worn to morning chapel. Last year, and as far back as we can recall, some of the seniors wore the gowns faithfully, while many others did not, and the effect was anything but consistent. If the class of 1919 decides to follow out the old custom and votes to wear the gowns, can't there be a little more unanimity about it?

CAMPUS CHATTER

Prof. Sanford has received a letter from Dickinson '16, who has recently been discharged from the service, from which we quote the following extract:

"I hope that you will personally convey my deep feeling of appreciation to all those who have so willingly devoted their time, money and energy to keep me happy during the 'great adventure.'

"I went across in July, 1917, and spent seventeen out of twenty-one months at the front with the French driving an ambulance. I have been very glad to receive continually the copies of The Campus and the many individual letters, and although my acknowledgment is slow—'tis better late than never—or perhaps is—better never late."

The Campus has recently received a letter from H. S. Perrigo of Potsdam, N. Y., containing an appeal for an "old fashioned commencement" this June. Mr. Perrigo who graduated from Middlebury College in 1870 states that he is now the only living member of his class and for that reason is anxious to hold a joint reunion with the '67, '68, '69, '71, '72 and '73 classes during the week of graduation. The letter gives the names of many members of the above classes who in many instances, the author states have not seen each other since the time of the graduation.

The class day committee which is composed of the following members, Dorothea Reynolds, chairman; Hazel Coburn, Mabel Hoyt, Belden and Hebard, has recently announced the following appointments: President's Address, Jones; Class Poem, Ella Fellowes; Essay, Ruth Holland; Class History, Elizabeth Johnson; Class Prophecy, Alice Wilson and Howard Watson; Oration, Paul Pitkin; Class Will, Clarence Hamilton; Ivy Oration, Stuart Douglas.

MEETING OF REGISTRARS HELD AT CHICAGO

Miss Jennie H. Bristol, Registrar of the College, attended the ninth annual meeting of the American Association of Collegiate Registrars at the University of Chicago, April 24, 25, and 26. Over one hundred registrars, representing colleges from Maine to California, from Minnesota to New Mexico, were represented.

Mr. Tarbell of Carnegie Institute of Technology presided at the meeting. A gracefully worded greeting was given by President Judson of the University of Chicago to "Our University Friends." A strong and constructive program on pertinent topics followed.

A paper on The American Army University Overseas, and an Estimate of its Work for College Credit, was given by Mr. Marsh, Registrar, Northwestern University, on information received by Professor John Erskine, Head of Army Educational Commission, Paris. He told of the 15,000 soldier-students who come in the three months' course under Col. Ira L. Reeves, former president of Norwich University, and now head of the A. E. F. University. They are not detailed there unless they have had two years' work at an American University or College, and they must stay three months.

There was a report on A Uniform College Entrance Certificate by the registrar of the University of Michigan; some Suggestions of College Presidents by the Executive Secretary, Association of American Colleges; informal discussion by Mr. Hanna, of the United States Bureau of Education, concerning further opportunities for cooperation between the Bureau and the Association, and a study of a Uniform Registration Procedure.

An address giving some side-lights on the S. A. T. C. was given by the Registrar of the University of Oklahoma, member of the Committee on Education and Special Training. He said that some one had compared the S. A. T. C. to an inscription on the tombstone of a little child in an old English churchyard: 'Since I was so quickly done for, I wonder what I was begun for." However, he showed many good effects, the value as a creator of health, and recognized the intrinsic value in discipline. If Physical Education were better established it would not be as hard to establish better mentalism, he said.

Army Intelligence Tests in College Administration, by Lieut. Colonel Walter V. Bingham, Dean of Division of Applied Psychology, Carnegie Institute of Technology, and during the war, Committee on the Classification of Personnel in the Army, was full of interest. He felt that an improvement on the army examinations will be utilized within the next five years, that the program in use of psychological examinations should be kept up, that the use of psychological methods is going to help in admissions. The tests, he said, give us a measure of reliability also with reference to counsel and guidance of the student throughout his course.

The new plan for admission at Columbia was discussed by the Assistant Registrar of that institution, and examples of psychological examinations were distributed to all those present.

On the way home Miss Bristol visited Niagara Falls and stopped at Buffalo where she was entertained by Mr. Samuel B. Botsford of the class of 1900. Probably few of the alumni realize the success that Mr. Botsford has attained. He is the president of the Board of Trade of Buffalo. He has been busy the last year doing war work, having travelled over 40,000 miles speaking in the interest of the War Department.

Mabel Hoyt '19 has gone to Albany to interview a school superintendent, and from there she will go to her home in Oneonta for the week-end.

'18. Helen A. Diehl who has been so long and so seriously ill at her home in South Natick, Mass., is gaining slowly.

CHARLES M. SWIFT TRUSTEE OF COLLEGE

The name of Charles M. Swift has recently been added to the list of Trustees of Middlebury College. Below is printed a brief sketch of Mr. Swift's life.

Charles May Swift was born in Middlebury, March 19, 1854, the son of George S. and Louise M. Swift. In 1856 his parents removed to Detroit, Mich. He went through the public schools, graduating from the High School in 1870. He studied law, practised stenography and court reporting and was admitted to the bar in 1877. He practised law in Detroit until 1892, when he became interested in promoting and building electric railways in the neighborhood of Detroit, among others the Detroit and Wyandotte, and the Detroit and Port Huron Shore Line. All of these properties were afterwards acquired by the Detroit United Railways.

In 1903, in connection with J. G. White & Co. of New York and Westinghouse, Church, Kerr and Co., he built the Manila Electric Railway and Light Co., and later the Manila Suburban. Subsequently he was a participant in the construction of the Philippine Railway in the island of Panay and Cebu.

He is President and Director of all the Philippine and Manila companies referred to. He is a Director in the Detroit United Railway, and is interested in land companies in Wyandotte, Mich., and in the Lake Superior region of Canada.

In 1913, he married Mrs. Walter Sylvester, daughter of John W. Stewart, former governor of Vermont and for many years a trustee of Middlebury College.

He owns a large estate in the township of Ferrisburg on the shores of Lake Champlain. Here he spends his summers, while his winters are spent mainly in Florida.

Mr. Swift is a man of enterprising spirit and sound business judgment, with keen appreciation of literature and a decided talent for the writing of humorous verse. He takes a great interest in sports, and is an enthusiastic golfer.

CAMPS FOR R. O. T. C.

A telegram has recently been received by Captain Ferguson which states that plans for R. O. T. C. summer camps have been completed and approved. The camps are to begin on June 21 and continue for six weeks. Men in Districts one (which includes Middlebury) and two are to combine at Camp Devens under the command of Colonel F. L. S. Price. Attendance is open to all members of the Senior Division and to members of the Junior Division, who at the end of previous school year, have had at least two years' training at an established R. O. T. C. unit. Men of the Junior Division, however, will live in a separate section of the camp. Mileage will be allowed to the extent of three and one-half cents a mile from school to camp and from camp to school.

It is understood that the course will be of a progressive nature and of value to men who have attended previous camps. In safeguarding the morals and health of the men extreme care is promised by the War Department.

It is hoped that the summer camp will be well attended as much of the future welfare of the R. O. T. C. depends on the success of these camps.

Dr. Herman F. Swartz of New York City was the college preacher last Sunday, taking as his subject, " A Challenge to Christian Leadership." Although he pointed out the fact that Christian leadership does not apply merely to the ministry, he took the narrower interpretation of the word showing that it is to college men and women that the world looks for this type of leadership. In his challenge he emphasized the cost its acceptance would mean in money, in study, in courage, and in absolute reliance upon God.

CHEMICAL SOCIETY MEETS AT BURLINGTON

Middlebury was well represented at a meeting of the Vermont section of the American Chemical Society, held at Burlington on Friday, April 25th. After a dinner at the hotel Vermont, the Midd men were taken to the Williams Science Hall of the University, where the meeting was held. Dr. E. M. Chamot, of Cornell University delivered the address on the subject of "Chemical Microscopy."

The talk given by Dr. Chamot brought to light the fact that a new field was opened to students in chemistry—one that is particularly interesting. He pointed out that the American chemist, who is usually ready to accept all time, labor, and money-saving devices, has been strangely backward in taking advantage of the benefits to be gained through the intelligent application of the use of the microscope in his research work. It is possible, he said when using the microscope properly to determine the kinds of metals in different coins without the aid of a reagent; to determine the melting and subliming points, and molecular weights of substances; to do qualitative analysis work, etc. The most interesting part of the work is that information can be procured in the quickest possible way, with practically no cost. Analyses that take from four to five hours by present-day methods can be gotten in fifteen minutes with the microscope. Dr. Chamot has been teaching the subject for several years, and all information which he gave was taken from experimental data.

NEW GENERAL CONSTITUTION

The proposed General Constitution intended to provide for the more efficient and satisfactory control and direction of the affairs and interests of the men's organizations and activities, is here presented. You will note, in Article II, the readiness with which desired amendments can be made, up to June, 1920. It is, of course, not a perfect instrument, and suggestions for its improvement will be welcomed. The need of some such machinery for the management of our activities has been long and lamentably recognized, and it is believed that we have here at least a sound basis toward the working-out of a system which shall insure success and satisfaction.

Preamble

We, the students of Middlebury College, in order to provide for an efficient government of all student activities, to further the best interest of our Alma Mater, and to maintain a hearty Middlebury spirit, do hereby establish the following Constitution.

Art. I. (Name and Purpose)

Sec. 1 The name of this organization shall be the Undergraduate Association of Middlebury College.

Sec. 2 The purpose of this Association shall be to preserve and regulate beneficial customs of Middlebury; to encourage student activities and promote the spirit of loyalty to such activities; to provide a suitable medium through which student opinion may be intelligently formed by adequate discussion, and when desirable, presented to the college authorities; to insure that all the recognized activities and officers in all organizations of the men's college, shall be wholly and absolutely under the direct control and supervision of the undergraduate men of the college, all of the above subject to the further provisions of this Constitution and the regulations of the college.

Sec. 3 Upon the adoption of this Constitution, for which the approval of the college authorities and a two-thirds vote of all registered male students of the college shall be necessary, this Association shall entirely supersede the organization known as the Middlebury Union, and said Union shall thereupon be declared dissolved.

Art. II (Membership)

Sec. 1 The Undergraduate Association of Middlebury College shall be composed of all duly matriculated male students pursuing regular undergraduate studies.

Sec. 2 All members of the Association shall be entitled to an equal voice and vote at all meetings of the Association.

Art. III (Officers and Duties)

Sec. 1 The officers of the Undergraduate Association shall be a President, who shall be a member of the Senior class; a Vice-President, who shall be a member of the Senior class or the Junior class; a Treasurer, who shall be a member of the Junior class; and a secretary who shall be a member of the Sophomore class.

Sec. 2 It shall be the duty of the President to call and to preside at all meetings of the Association, and he shall be held responsible for the prompt and decisive execution of all resolutions and decisions rendered by the Association as a whole, and by the Student Council. He shall perform such other duties as are elsewhere prescribed in this Constitution.

Sec. 3 The duties of the Vice-President shall be those of the President in the absence or disability of the latter.

Sec. 4 The Secretary shall keep a record of all the important proceedings of the Association; keep a true roster of its members; post adequate notices of all its meetings; attend to all correspondence of the Association; and keep the minutes of all meetings in a record book provided by the Association. He shall furnish to The Campus Board, for the purpose of publication, an authoritative account of the business done at each meeting.

Sec. 5 The Treasurer shall receive all money belonging to the Association, pay all bills incurred with its approval, and keep and preserve a faithful account of all such receipts and expenditures. He shall, upon request of the Chairman of the Auditing Committee, submit all the accounts of his office for their correction and approval. He shall be authorized to receive money levied upon its members as a tax.

Art. IV. (Student Council)

Sec. 1 There shall be a Student Council, composed of seven members, the Chairman of which shall be the President of this Association. (In the absence or disability of the President the Vice-President shall be the Chairman of the Council.) Five of these members, including the President, shall be members of either the Senior or Junior class in the year for which they are elected. There shall be a member from the Sophomore class and one from the Freshman class. The Freshman member shall be elected by the Freshman class, and until he shall have been elected, the President of the Freshman class shall act as the representative of that class upon the Council.

Sec. 2 Subject at all times to the order of the Undergraduate Association, the Student Council shall have the power of discretionary supervision over all activities, acts, and policies of al college organizations and of individual undergraduates, in all matters which concern the interests of the student body, in so far as this supervision shall not conflict with the authority or regulations of the college. It shall, from time to time, make recommendations to the Association and express its opinion as to the state of affairs among the men of the college, and upon the endorsement of its recommendations by the Association, shall advise the President to take the necessary steps to put such recommendations into effect.

Sec. 3 The Council may at any time demand from any officer or committee of any college organization an explanation or report of any action or policy taken or contemplated regarding any of the affairs of the organization which it deems of concern to the student body, and it shall be the duty of any officer or committee thus summoned to furnish such explanation or report in a satisfactory manner.

Sec. 4 The organizations over whose affairs the discretionary power of the Council extends in the meaning of this Constitution are: the Glee Club, Kaleidoscope, Campus, Athletic Council, Banjo and Mandolin Clubs, and such others as the Student Association may from time to time vote to include by specific amendment to this Constitution.

No organization or club shall exist in the men's College unless an authoritative, written statement of its purpose has been deposited with and approved by the Student Council.

The Council shall have the power of discretionary supervision over all matters concerning the hazing of freshmen, but it shall be the policy of the Council not to interfere with the authority of the Sophomore Rules Committee in any such matters except as the interests of the student body or of the college may seem to require it.

Sec. 5 A quorum of the Student Council shall consist of six members. Four votes shall be necessary for the adoption of any measure. There shall be no voting by proxy in the Council, nor shall any member be represented by a substitute.

All proceedings and actions of the Student Council shall be reported to the Association at each regular meeting of the Association.

The Student Council shall hold an open meeting at least once a month, at which any member of the Association may offer suggestions or make known grievances. The time and place of such meetings shall be posted on the bulletin boards in Hepburn Hall and Old Chapel two days in advance.

Art. V (Meetings)

Sec. 1 All regular meetings of the Association shall be held in Hepburn Social Hall or McCullough Gymnasium.

Sec. 2 Regular meetings of the Association shall be held every other Tuesday evening after college opens in the fall and beginning likewise with the second Tuesday after every vacation or recess, with such exceptions as may specifically be made with the consent of the Student Council.

Sec. 3 The President of the Association or the Student Council may at any time call a special meeting, and the President shall be required to call a meeting of the Association upon written petition of ten members.

Sec. 4 Forty per cent of the members of the Association shall constitute a quorum for all purposes except the annual nomination and election of officers and members of the Student Council, for which sixty per cent shall constitute a quorum.

Sec. 3 A majority vote of those present shall be necessary for the adoption of any measure.

Sec. 6 All meetings of the Association shall be governed by Roberts' Rules of Order.

Art. VI. (Auditing Committee)

Sec. 1. There shall be an Auditing Committee, composed of two Seniors and one Junior, to be appointed by the Student Council at the first regular meeting in November of each year. The Auditing Committee shall assume their responsibilities immediately upon appointment, and they shall be responsible for the auditing of accounts, as hereinafter specified, to the end of the college year. The manager of any team or treasurer of any organization, or other person responsible for the handling of any money of the Association or of any college organization shall not be eligible for membership on the Auditing Committee. The treasurer or manager of any organization or other person whose accounts are being audited shall be a member, ex-officio, of the Auditing Committee for the auditing of his own accounts, but shall have no vote.

Sec. 2 The manager or treasurer of each Middlebury team, publication, or organization, in the men's college, the Treasurer of this Association and all standing committees shall submit full accounts, all receipted bills and contracts, to the Auditing Committee at the end of the college year for those maintaining an activity throughout the college year, or at any time upon request of the Auditing Committee. These accounts shall be examined and balanced by the Auditing Committee. Such accounts as meet with its approval shall be published in The Campus. All receipted bills and contracts are to be kept on file by the officer in whose care they are, and shall at all times be open to examination by the Auditing Committee.

Sec. 3 The Auditing Committee shall, from time to time, make a report of its work to the Association, giving a full report of its findings in cases where the accounts have been found unsatisfactory.

Sec. 4 The Auditing Committee shall provide printed ballots for use in the nomination and election of officers, and they shall act as tellers (with help if necessary) at all nominations and elections. They shall keep a record of all nominations and elections for at least a year after they are made and shall keep all ballots on file and open to inspection in the presence of the Auditing Committee for at least six months after they are made.

Art. VII. (Social Committee)

Sec. 1 There shall be a Social Committee, composed of three members, one of whom shall be a Senior, who shall be Chairman of the Committee. The Social Committee shall be appointed by the Student Council, at the first regular meeting in the fall of each college year.

Sec. 2 The Social Committee shall have charge of all college dances given under the auspices of the Association, of the entertainment at Association meetings, and shall cooperate with the Social Committee of the Women's College in functions given under the joint auspices of the men and the women of the college. The Committee shall be responsible for managing the college dances so that the receipts for admission shall cover the entire expense of the dances.

Art. VIII. (Athletic Council and other Constitutions)

Sec. 1 There shall be an Athletic Council, having membership and powers and duties in accordance with the Constitution of the Athletic Council of Middlebury College.

Sec. 2 The Constitutions of the Athletic Council, of the Kaleidoscope Board, of The Campus Board, and of the Musical Associations of Middlebury College, as they shall be approved by a majority vote of all the members of the Association, shall become a part of this General Constitution.

Art. IX. (Elections and Removals)

Sec. 1 Elections and appointments to the several offices and other positions of trust and responsibility under this Constitution shall be made annually, as hereinafter provided.

Sec. 2 At the first regular meeting in May of each year the members of the Association shall make nominations, by secret ballot, for a President of the Association. The men receiving the five highest numbers of votes shall be declared nominated for President. At the same meeting, and after the nominations for President have been made, the members of the Association shall make nominations, by secret ballot, for members of the Student Council, and those who were nominated for President shall also be eligible for the Student Council. In making nominations for the Student Council, each member shall nominate one Senior, one Junior, and one Sophomore, on one ballot. The Seniors receiving the three highest numbers of votes shall be declared nominated, and the Juniors likewise. The Sophomores receiving the two highest numbers of votes shall be declared nominated. The names of these five nominees for President and of these eight nominees for the Student Council shall be posted on the bulletin boards of Old Chapel and Hepburn Hall the next day and remain posted until the next regular meeting.

At the second regular meeting in May, the members of the Association shall vote for the election of President from those nominated at the previous regular meeting. Upon the first vote, the names of the men having the two lowest numbers of votes shall be eliminated. The members shall vote upon the three remaining nominees for President and the name of the nominee receiving the lowest number of votes shall be dropped. The members shall then vote upon the two remaining nominees, and the nominee receiving a majority of all the votes cast shall be declared elected President of the Association for the next college year. If any nominee shall receive a majority of all the votes cast before the three ballots shall have been necessary, said nominee shall thereupon be declared elected.

After the President has been elected the members shall vote upon the names of the three Seniors nominated for the Student Council. The nominees receiving the two highest numbers of votes shall be declared elected. The Junior nominees shall be voted upon and elected in the same manner. The Sophomore nominees shall then be voted upon and the nominee receiving a majority of votes shall be declared elected.

(The terms Senior, Junior and Sophomore as used in this Article mean those who will be, respectively, Seniors Juniors and Sophomores in the college year for which they are intended to be elected.)

At the same meeting, and after elections to the Student Council have been made, the members of the Association shall nominate, from the floor, at least three candidates for the office of Vice-President. They shall vote upon these nominees, by secret ballot, in the same manner as for the President, until one shall have received a majority of all the votes cast, when he shall be declared elected. A Secretary and a Treasurer shall be elected in the same manner.

Whenever, in making nominations, it is necessary to choose between two names having an equal number of votes, the Association shall vote by ballot upon those two names and the one receiving a majority shall be declared nominated or elected, as the case may be.

At the same meeting, and after the above elections have been made, the members shall make nominations, by secret ballot, for delegates to the Athletic Council, each member voting for six candidates who shall be upperclassmen. The men receiving the eight highest numbers of votes shall be declared nominated, and their names shall be posted on the bulletin boards in Old Chapel and Hepburn Hall the next day and remain posted until the next regular meeting.

At the next regular meeting, the nominees to the Athletic Council shall be voted upon, and the men receiving the six highest numbers of votes shall be declared elected.

Sec. 3 There shall be an annual installation of officers, held at the first regular meeting in June, at which the newly elected President, Vice-President, Secretary, Treasurer, and members of the Student Council shall assume their respective offices.

Sec. 4 The incumbent of any office or other position of trust and responsibility under this Constitution may be removed by a majority vote of the members of the Association in the following manner. Upon presentation to the President of the Association or to the Student Council of a petition signed by at least fifteen members, at least one half of whom shall be upperclassmen and specifying reasons of dissatisfaction, the President of the Association, shall at the next regular meeting of the Association, read the petition as presented and call for discussion and for a vote as to whether the members wish to retain the officer in question or the Student Council may recommend the consideration of removal, specifying causes. The officer in question shall be given a full opportunity to speak for himself before the vote is taken and the vote as to his retention shall be by secret ballot. If there shall be a majority vote against him, he shall be declared removed from office and a new incumbent shall be elected at once.

Sec. 5 Whenever, for any reason, it becomes necessary to make reelection to any office or other position of responsibility under this Constitution, nominations for the office in question shall be made from the floor, at a regular meeting of the Association, and at least three nominations shall be made before a motion to close nominations shall be in order. The nominations shall be voted upon at the same meeting, by secret ballot and the election made in the same manner as in electing the President of the Association.

Art. X. (Point System)

Sec. 1 Members of the undergraduate Association may hold positions of honor, trust, and responsibility in student organizations and activities only in accordance with the Point System, as here described or as it may be amended by the Association. The activities in which a man may engage AT ANY ONE TIME are limited according to his standing in scholarship, according to the following schedule. The aim is to secure efficient management by allowing no man to be over burdened with offices, and to secure a reasonable distribution of honors and responsibilities among the men of the college.

Maximum number of Points allowed: Average of Scholarship—Below 80 per cent: Senior, 10 points; Junior, 9 points; Sophomore, 8 points; Freshmen, 7 points; 80-86 per cent: Senior, 12 points; Junior, 11 points; Sophomore, 10 points; Freshman, 7 points; Above 86 per cent: Senior, 14 points; Junior, 13 points; Sophomore, 12 points; Freshman, 8 points.

Members of Junior Week Committee, 1 point.
Member Sophomore Hop Committee. 1 point.
Member Senior Ball Committee, 1 point.
Member Class Day Committee, 1 point.

Sec. 2 In order to insure that the point system shall not work injustice to any, the Student Council may, at its discretion, make special exceptions as to its application, to cover unusual cases.

Art. XI. (Amendments)

Sec. 1 Amendments to this Constitution may be proposed at any regular meeting of the Association, either by the Student Council or by any member of the Association.

Sec. 2 In order to become a part of this Constitution a proposed amendment shall be discussed at the next two succeeding regular meetings of the Association, and shall be voted upon at the third succeeding regular meeting after the amendment is proposed. A proposed amendment shall be published in The Campus as soon as possible after it is proposed.

Sec. 3 The provision of Sec. 2 shall take effect in June 1920. Until then the provisions of Sec. 4 shall govern the amending of this Constitution, but in June, 1920, Sec. 4 of this Art. shall be stricken from the Constitution.

Sec. 4. Amendments to this Constitution submitted before June, 1920, shall be submitted in accordance with Sec. 1; the amendment shall be read at the meeting at which proposed and discussed and voted upon at the next regular meeting. A period of two weeks must elapse between the first reading and the final vote.

Sec. 5 A two-thirds vote of all members present (and forty per cent of the members must be present) shall be necessary to the adoption of any amendment.

Undergraduate Musical Associations of the Men of Middlebury College

Glee Club

The Glee Club shall be composed of undergraduates, faculty members and in special cases alumnae and ex-students. Men shall be chosen from tryouts, the judges being the faculty advisor, the leader and the manager.

The officers shall be a leader and manager to be chosen from one of the succeeding two upper classes preferably of coming senior rank immediately after the Junior Week concert or during the following week. Every member shall be notified of elections, and at least three fourths shall be present and voting. Every one who has taken part in one or more concerts shall be eligible to vote. If for any reason an officer is unable to accompany the club on concert trips, another officer shall be elected to take his place and hold office for the remainder of the season.

Duties of Officers

The manager shall arrange all concerts and manage all finances as provided under that section following. The leader shall have charge of training the club and shall have charge of all music.

The number of concerts shall be determined by the officers of the club and faculty.

In all joint concerts the manager of the Glee Club shall have full charge.

Finances

The manager shall handle all financ and at the end of his season shall hand a report of finances to the auditing committee. He shall keep a file of all correspondence, and at the end of the season shall hand this or copies of the same to the succeeding manager.

Music

The leader shall be responsible for all copies of music and at the close of the season shall hand these over to a faculty supervisor for the following year.

Banjo and Mandolin Clubs

Officers shall be a leader and if sufficient numbers warrant it a manager. In joint concerts this club shall be under the management of the Glee Club. In separate concerts it shall be self-governing.

Band and Orchestra

Inasmuch as the college provides for the finances and leader of each of these organizations they shall be self-governing under the direction of this leader.

All the above organizations shall be under the discretionary supervision of the General Student Council.

IN MIDDLEBURY'S SPORTING FIELD

In spite of the inclement weather conditions which have prevailed ever since last Wednesday an attempt has been made at track practice every day. The inter-class meet which was scheduled for Thursday and Friday afternoons was called off on account of the rain and the general disagreeableness of the weather. On Monday afternoon trials for several of the events were run off in order to enable Coach Brown to get a line on the comparative ability of the variosu candidates. It is understood that the results were entirely satisfactory.

The complete list of entrants for the varsity meet with Tufts was received yesterday morning by Manager Holbrook and in all probability the programs will be ready for distribution either today or tomorrow. Tufts is sending a team of about twenty-five men and appears to be particularly strong in the sprints. According to a recent issue of the "Tufts Weekly" the main weakness of the southern team lies in her lack of long-distance runners and jumpers. Her short-distance and weight events seem to be well taken care of by an unusually large number of good men.

Considering the poor weather with which he has been obliged to contend, Coach Brown has made remarkable progress in developing a well balanced team out of the large number of comparatively new men. Middlebury's greatest strength lies in her distance runners. Capt. Jones who holds two college records in the mile and two-mile is rapidly coming into his past form. In the trials Monday afteroon his time for each of his races was unusually fast considering the short practice season. Miske and Donnelly, the other two men who will probably run with Jones are expected to place.

Coach Brown has a number of men to pick from for the sprints. The choice for both the 100 and 220 yard dashes will rest with Bower, Robinson, Brown, Farnham and Fletcher. Bower did not report for practice early this week on account of sickness but is reported better and will be in shape for the meet.

In the trials Monday afternoon L. Brown showed considerable speed in the quarter and may be used by Coach Brown with Baldwin and Farnham in this event. The half-mile will be run by Capt. Jones, Richardson and Donnelly.

The remainder of the events consisting of the hurdles, weights and jumps are well taken care of by the large number of candidates. Hebard is showing up well in the broad jump as are Howe and Potratz in the hammer and discus throws.

'22 WINS HAT SCRAP

The annual under-class Hat Scrap last Saturday afternoon resulted in a complete victory for the freshmen and gave them an advantage of one point over the sophomores in the contests for deciding the date when the former will be allowed to discard their "pea-greens." The tug-of-war to be run off immediately after the Vermont game in the rear of the Old Chapel will fix the date on the first of next week providing the freshmen are victorious, otherwise an inter-class baseball game will be added to settle the dispute.

Both classes were tied with one point each until last Saturday's scrap, having won a game apiece in the basketball series last winter. The sophomores were outnumbered nearly three times in the fight but lost absolutely "game." At the end of the three-minute period of fighting, members of the Student Council accorded 10 hands to the freshmen and 1 to their antagonists. Keppler, practically alone from the start, saved his class from a shut-out by maintaining his hold on the coveted felt throughout the entire fight. For the freshmen Coates, Fletcher and Stevens each claimed two hands and Lane, Norton, Judd and Horner one apiece at the final shot of the gun.

The annual Freshman P-rade will occur immediately before the Tufts meet on Thursday afternoon. The same line of march will be observed as in past years with the P-rade forming on the campus at 1 p. m.

If Middlebury wins from U. V. M. in Saturday's game a shirt-tail parade will be held immediately after the Junior Play. In any case a large bonfire will be made on the crown of Chapel Hill at which time speeches will be made and College songs sung as a finale for the Junior Week festivities.

INTERFRATERNITY BASEBALL

The complete schedule of games for the Inter-Fraternity Baseball League has been announced by the Sport Committee at the last meeting of the Inter-Fraternity Council. Teams representing each of the five fraternities and the non-fraternity men will meet every other team in the schedule of fifteen games. No entrance fee to the league will be charged.

The season will open Tuesday, May 6 following Junior Week, when the Delta Kappa Epsilon and Kappa Delta Rho nines will face each other in the initial encounter, and it will continue through May and part of June, the last game on the schedule being June 14 between Chi Psi and Delta Upsilon. Several of the fraternities took advantage of the fine weather early last week to get in some preliminary practice. The large number of early candidates for the varsity this season being fairly evenly distributed among the various fraternities would indicate an exceptionally fast season.

Any man who is not on the varsity squad and who is not a second team pitcher will be eligible for his society's team. The only other ruling made by the Committee provides for extra games in case of tie. The schedule of games follows:

May 6—D. K. E. vs. K. D. R.
9—Chi Psi vs. A. S. P.
13—D. U. vs. Neutrals.
17—Chi Psi vs. K. D. R.
20—A. S. P. vs. K. D. R.
23—D. K. E. vs. Neutrals
27—D. K. E. vs. A. S. P.
June 3—Chi Psi vs. Neutrals
6—D. U. vs. K. D. R.
7—D. K. E. vs. D. U .
7—K. D. R. vs. Neutrals
10—K .D. R. vs. A. S. P.
12—Chi Psi vs. D. K. E.
13—A. S. P. vs. Neutrals
14—Chi Psi vs. D. U.

PLANS FOR TENNIS

Plans are being made for the holding of a Vermont Intercollegiate Tennis Meet here on June 6-7. Teams from the University of Vermont, Norwich University and St. Michael's College have been invited to attend and if this proves impossible a dual meet will be staged with St. Michael's.

Repair work was halted last week by the severe weather but every effort will be made to have it in order some time next week. No call for candidates has yet been issued but it is reported that there is a wealth of material for a varsity four. In addition to Jones, Hinchey and Ginsburg, Gollnick and Fletcher of the freshmen class are two experienced players. Gollnick is the holder of several western inter-collegiate titles.

WOMEN'S ATHLETIC FIELD

At last the women of the college are to enjoy the advantages of an up-to-date athletic field. The ground back of the tennis courts is to be leveled and drained for the construction of a field about one hundred by three hundred feet. This will probably mean outdoor basketball, volley ball, baseball and hockey. If the upperclassmen do their share in practicing, the athletics on the women side of the college ought to be well worth watching, as it is planned to have picked teams of upperclassmen play against the freshmen.

FINE PROSPECTS FOR SUMMER SESSION

BIG ENROLLMENT SURE

The organization of the Summer Session of 1919 will follow the same general plan that was adopted at the time of the creation of the specialized Modern Language Schools under the direction of Dr. Collins in 1915, with the exception that the Italian School will not be continued nor will German be given in 1919. The prospects are that all available accommodations will be taken by the Spanish and French Schools, the Music School, and the English School. An additional modern language house like Hepburn Hall could easily be filled if the college possessed such a one.

The Spanish School will again be under the immediate personal supervision of Professor Julian Moreno-Lacalle of the United States Naval Academy, with whom will be associated Professors Jose Martel and Malbino Davalos, besides Senorita Escoriaza and several other native Spanish educators.

No elementary courses are offered in the Modern Language Schools. The courses in Spanish include conversational, recitation, and lecture courses in grammar, composition, literature, history, phonetics, and philology, with particular attention to Spanish-American history, literature, geography, and industry. Hepburn Hall will be the Spanish House and the center of the social dramatic and musical life of this school. The Spanish language is used exclusively by the members of the Spanish School throughout the session.

The same principles are carried out so far as practicable in the life of the French School. Since the French School is housed in Pearsons Hall, with dining facilities in Battell Dining Hall, the isolation of the school from the English and Music students cannot be carried to the extreme that prevails in the case of the Spanish School. The separation of French students is provided for, however, by the reservation of the French tables in the dining hall, at which only French is used, as well as in the separate social life of the school.

Professor H. P. Williamson de Visme, a graduate of the college and well known in Middlebury, returns again from his school in France, the Ecole du Chateau de Soisy, to act as Dean of the French School. With him are associated Dr. George de la Jarrie, representative of the French Government, who is to give his third summer to Middlebury, Professor Edwin Lathrop Baker, of Oberlin College, a notable linguist and traveller, and possessing unusual dramatic and musical skill, whose presence will add much to the social life of the School, Mlle. Marie Louise Cecile Janin, now at Indiana University ,and Mlle. Mereille Dalmas, of Wells College, Aurora, N. Y. Both ladies are natives of France and are of unusual talent, training and personality. The staff of the French School is thus somewhat enlarged and a corresponding enrichment of its work may be expected with confidence.

The Music School retains Miss Hayden of Steinert Hall, Boston, well known in this vicinity through her former summer work at Middlebury, and receives an important addition to its teaching staff in Professor Hathaway, who will offer work in piano, organ, and harmony and in musical appreciation. It has also been arranged that Miss Gladys Lott, who has been associated with the Summer Session for the past four years, shall assist Miss Hayden, with courses in Platform Art and Recital Repertoire, which may be taken privately or in classes.

The work of the English School is of more general interest to the undergraduates than the more specialized programs of the other schools. The work of the English School has been considerably curtailed in recent years, owing to the pressure of the growing and financially more remunerative modern language schools. This year, however, in view of the number of students finishing the regular college year with incomplete credits owing to war service and related causes, efforts will be made to provide a series of courses in a few fields which will supply the wants of such students.

Among such courses are those of Professor Karl F. Geiser of Oberlin, now enjoying a research year at Harvard and completing two books on government and politics which will be published this spring. Professor Geiser is a well known teacher in his field, and his courses on Comparative Government and International Relations will be sure to attract many interested listners. Assistant Professor Ryland of the college will offer two courses in history, one in the field of American history, the other on The Great War, which will be adapted to the needs of Middlebury students and will be of interest to the general public.

The work so successfully begun a year ago in English Language and Literature by the late Thomas G. Wright of Yale will be carried on by another Yale teacher, Dr. Stanley T. Williams, who has recently returned from service overseas, and who is peculiarly well prepared to offer courses in Victorian Poetry and Prose and to carry on the work in English Composition. Working in close cooperation with the English Department, Miss Lott will give her courses in Reading and Story Telling. Professor Cady, a Summer Session veteran, will give courses in Shakespeare's Contemporaries and the Development of the Novel in England and America.

Besides these courses there will be carried on work in Chemistry by Professor Davis, two courses in Education by Dr. Howard, one in Psychology and one on the Junior High School, and last but not least Professor Sanford will add two valuable courses to the English School program, in Roman Origins and Studies in Latin Verse.

Dr. Collins, who acts as Director of the Summer Session this year, will be glad to be consulted by students who desire to meet particular requirements next summer. If a sufficient number desire, efforts will be made to organize additional courses to meet the needs of such students.

B. U. OFFERS SCHOLARSHIP

Through the influence of Dr. W. H. Watters who lectured here during the Winter term on the subject of the study of medicine, the Boston University College of Medicine, with which he is connected has offered a scholarship of $100 to a graduate of Middlebury college to be awarded at the descretion of the faculty. The scholarship will be used toward defraying the student's first year expenses at the university.

The text of the letter received by Dean Wiley relative to the giving of the scholarship follows:

"The Executive Committee of the School of Medicine has voted that we offer to the faculty of Middlebury College, Middlebury, Vt., one scholarship of $100 to be awarded on recommendation of faculty of Middlebury College to graduate of said institution to be applied towards the defraying of his or her tuition fees during his or her freshman year at Boston University School of Medicine."

PROGRAM OF JUNIOR WEEK FESTIVITIES

a rally will be held in the Gymnasium and following it will be the U. V. M.-Middlebury baseball game. This feature will no doubt be as intensely interesting as it always is when Midd meets the Green and Gold team.

The Junior Play, "A Scrap of Paper," will be given in the McCullough Gymnasium Saturday evening. A synopsis of the plot and other information regarding it is printed elsewhere in this issue.

As a fitting close to the celebrations of the week a big bonfire will be kindled after the play. In the flicker and glare of its flames the hostilities between the sophomores and freshmen will cease, being ended by a formal burying of the hatchet.

Word that Harvard University would enter contestants in both seaplane and land plane races at the second Pan-American aeronautic campaign at Atlantic City during May has been received by the Aero Club of America. From Yale University came advice that Yale hopes to compete both in the intercollegiate contests and the international races, the latter to be held throughout the summer months.

The Aero Club of America announced that thus far the prizes and trophies ordered for these competitions amounted to $30,000. It was also stated that fliers, graduates of universities who are or have been in the army or navy, or marine service, would be permitted to represent their institutions if entries are sent at once to the Aero Club of America.

TUFTS COLLEGE MEDICAL and DENTAL SCHOOLS

The Tufts College Medical and Dental Schools are co-educational, and provide women with an opportunity for entering vocations of great possibilities.

The requirements for entering the Medical School are that the candidate shall have a diploma from an accredited high school and two years of medical preparatory work covering Chemistry, Biology, Physics, English and either French or German.

Tufts College Dental School admits graduates of accredited high schools on presentation of their diploma and transcript or record covering fifteen units.

Many successful women practitioners are among its graduates.
